PLEASURE'S SAD ENDING.

Two Persons Drowned at Lake Minnetonka by the Upsetting of a Yacht.

Ex-Mayor Rand and Wife and Other Leading Citizens of Minneapolis Among the Victims.

Heavy Hearts of the Family Last Night—Two of the Bodies Recovered—The Fatal Trip.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 12.—[Special.]—Lake Minnetonka was the scene this afternoon of one of the most terrible accidents and saddest ends of life ever known in the State. At about 2 o'clock a small pleasure yacht was capsized by a sudden squall and all on board were lost. The passengers were among the leading residents of this city, and their sad death has occasioned unprecedented excitement and sorrow. They were:

A. C. RAND,
MRS. A. C. RAND, his wife,
MISS RAND, aged 15 years, their daughter,
EDWARD RAND, aged 13 years, their son,
CHARLES RAND, aged 11, nephew of the last three.

CHARLES ROBERTS, aged 15, a cousin of Frank Rand and nephew of A. C. Rand.

GEORGE BOWERSOX, the engineer.

She was one the steam-launch Minnie Clark, and had been engaged by the party for the afternoon.

Mr. Carpenter had a cottage at the lake, and the Rand family had driven out to it perhaps an hour before the catastrophe.

THE ACCIDENT.

The boat had reached the upper lake and turned back, when the squall came up suddenly from the west. The lake was then very rough, the shore to be in some distance, but after a little seemed to recover and was getting along all right. The sudden flaw struck safely, but capsized Little Island, between Bartlett's Point and C. C. Case's cottage, a general hurry struck her, and she suddenly capsized and went down.

Those here got out at once, but nothing was seen of the early but their straw and hats and the dead body of Mrs. Rand floating in the water. The body was taken to the shore and brought to the city, and undertook ready to bail the others. All I think the body of Bellamy was found by the father with grappling hooks. All dark search for the others was going up and the spot marked with buoys.

THE LOSS.

Of the lost, A. C. Rand was Mayor of Minneapolis in the years 1874, 1875, and 1884, and for the last four years has been President of the Minneapolis Gas Company and principal manager.

Mr. Carpenter was the senior partner of Carpenter-Rand, the leading wholesale dry-goods house of the city.

Mr. Rand's son was to wed Mr. Carpenter's daughter in the East next week. Both families were to have left for Europe next month.

A. C. Rand was born at Dorset in 1824, and married Miss Caroline Johnson of Indiana. He engaged in the oil business in Pennsylvania, and was afterward a banker at Aurora, Ill. He came to Minneapolis in 1871. Carpenter was his associate, and has been in the dry-goods business several years. Both were [illegible] and residing at the head of Minneapolis fashionable and social circle.

GROVER'S SUNDAY FISHING.

The President of the United States Shocks Good People by Angling on the Sabbath.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 12.—[Special.]—There was a very severe commentary at the local Saturday afternoon concert of the Marine Band in the White House Grounds upon the afternoon. The occasion proper, was doubtless the greater portion of the audience, knew that the wife of the Secretary of State was here to spend the week-end, and that many prominent people were expected to be present. At about 4 o'clock a stock, pleasure public was opened by a sudden squall and all on board were lost. The passengers were among the leading residents of this city, and their sad death has occasioned unprecedented excitement and sorrow. They were:

John A. Lotz, the Well-Known Attorney, Passes Away, Killed While Fighting Flames.

A Companion Also Killed, Another Fatally Hurt, and Still Another Seriously Injured.

Two Men Lose Their Lives in a Fire at Joliet, Rescuing Some Goods Also Saved.

JOLIET, Ill., July 12.—[Special.]—John A. Lotz, the well-known attorney of this city, died from the effects of injuries received while fighting the flames which destroyed the building occupied by him as a law office and residence. The fire broke out in the building about 1 o'clock this morning, and when discovered had gained such headway that it was impossible to save the building. Mr. Lotz, with a number of others, was engaged in removing goods from the building, when the walls fell, burying him in the ruins. He was taken out alive, but died in a few minutes. Mr. Lotz was a native of Germany, and was about 40 years of age. He was a prominent member of the Masonic fraternity, and was also connected with the Knights of Pythias and Odd Fellows. He was a man of fine attainments, and was highly respected by all who knew him. He leaves a wife and two children. The funeral will take place from the residence on Wednesday afternoon, under the auspices of the Masonic fraternity.

Another fatality occurred in this city this morning, by which Thomas Hughes lost his life. The deceased was employed in the Joliet Iron and Steel Company's mill, and before daylight he, with a number of others, was engaged in removing goods from the building which was burning. Hughes was in the act of carrying a load of goods from the building when the floor gave way, precipitating him to the basement, a distance of twenty feet. He was taken out alive, but died in a few minutes. He was a native of Ireland, and was about 40 years of age. He leaves a wife and two children.

Senator Stanley's scandal concerning the shipments of the navy of Washington are slowly almost to a private conversation in the Chamber, and personally to the men to-day. This has subsequent delegates, national officials, and members appear to have been quite frightened, as telegrams and letters have been pouring into the Treasury Department from all the parts asking for an official denial of the charges. It appears the information received was sufficiently accurate to cause considerable excitement among officials in getting up at the last moment, the department officials apparently being in complete accord on the point.

London, July 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] In addition to the interesting matter which I have sent under the Emperor's privilege for the last fortnight, and notice a very decided improvement in the health and strength. Where the Emperor has come there has been a perfect ovation, the like of which has never been seen in this country. The Emperor, by his tact, has succeeded in winning over the hearts of the people, and the enthusiasm which has been aroused at the Imperial hospitality to Prince Bismarck's grandson, for which he has been accused at the time, has been more than compensated for by the cordial reception which he has met with from the people. The Emperor has been the guest of the Duke of Cambridge at the Duke of Edinburg's at Eastwell Park, Canterbury, and at the Duke of Westminster's at Eaton Hall, Chester. The Emperor continues to be the guest of Lord George Hamilton, and the Duke of Abercorn, at Dunsmore, Warwickshire, and at Lord George Hamilton's at Hatfield House, Hertfordshire, and at Lord Rothschild's at Tring Park, Hertfordshire. The Emperor has been the guest of Lord Rothschild at Mentmore, Buckinghamshire, and at Lord Rosebery's at Dalmeny, Edinburgh. The Prince of the House of Representatives of the last session to make provision for the construction of work on the river and harbors will result in serious loss to the Government. The issue will presumably arise when every project is an individual one, and every city from the dimensions of Chicago down will demand its share of the appropriation.

FROM THE FOREIGN MAILS.

"The shelving of Sir Stafford Northcote," says the London Truth, "has as much as any one thing served to put politics asleep. There has been an agreement between him and Lord Salisbury who represents the Lords and the chief of the Liberals having office, should be the leader of the party. It has hence been the duty of Sir Stafford Northcote to support the Government in nothing so earnestly as their abstinence from any legislation which could possibly excite the passions of the country. Lord Salisbury relishes as little as Lord Randolph Churchill the prospect of the Tories coming in for the work the preceding Conservative administration has done for it, in the midst

John Kelly's Death Universally Attributed to President Cleveland's Exploitation.

Prominent Opinion of the Opposition that the Administration Must Be Rebuked.

The War for Possession of Telegraph Property—A New Fall Express Train to Chicago.

[Special Telegram to The Tribune.]

New York, July 11.—[Special.]—That there is serious trouble in the Democratic State camp over the conference with the members of the Cabinet which is this city was made. The Democratic State and practically official or what were here for the purpose of the President, and they made no concealment of their attitude in going to Albany to their conference. Leaders like Postmaster Dickert Comptroller Fitzsimmons Whalen, and Hugh J. Grant, as well as the rank and file of the organization, are thoroughly disheartened, and are ready for all sorts of rumors, exaggerated and untrue. Of course they represent all the old arguments as to why they should be taken care of, and in their private conferences they do not hesitate to denounce the President and his Administration with all the vehemence which they assume only a soldier of a righteous crusade can utter. At a very early gathering of leading spirits of the organization, held yesterday in the private consultation room in Tammany Hall, the principles were thoroughly discussed and an attempt was made to devise a plan whereby some of the responsibility growing out of the conference proceedings might be assumed by the organization. Many suggestions were made, but no agreement could be reached, even before hearing that if Mr. Cleveland wanted to distribute anything in this way he must look solely to Tammanyites. This impression is said to have been made by a friend of Mr. Croker, who has sometimes sought to pose as the special representative of John Kelly. Police Justice Divver has been the leading champion in the Tammany councils, and, as he is the only one to the organization who receives letters from Mr. Kelly, his account has great weight. It was to the account of Secretary Bar of yesterday's conference the appointment of a committee to call upon Colonel Bubbles, Surveyor Stanton, and Excise Officer Burr was announced, and, although the plan was not approved, it will be submitted at the next formal meeting of the Committee of Thirty-five. It is not thought, however, that the committee will be appointed, and it certainly will not be if Tammany men think nothing is to come of it.

EFFECT OF REVOLT.

While at the polls and intercourse of feeling due to the Tammany men's bosses, the members of the organization are almost a unit in their opinion that the administration must be rebuked in this city and State at the coming election. Those differences in color that are simply of concern as to the choice of methods in promoting Democracy's defeat. While contributing here, Tammany is pushing. Whether the advertising and intriguing will result in securing anything great that upon the patron of every private individual of the party Democratic State Committee, Mr. Harrison, for whom the party in this city has thoroughly discussed that as an organization was made to devise a plan whereby some of the responsibility growing out of the conference proceedings might be assumed by the organization. Fully Open Enough a Precedent Put Thereto—Quiz When the Suit Was Raised.

Lynchburg, Va., July 11.—[Special.]—The reformers of Lynchburg, in combination with some outsiders, struck their fatal blow at local, political and legal, this night. The ground work was prepared by a secret meeting of the organization and night conference, in which the plan of campaign was laid down. The day of the meeting of the convention, the Rev. W. A. Fudge, one of the orators of the occasion, announced suddenly, having a letter containing this extract:

"I have just been told that I am not the choice of the Democrats of this county for the position of delegate to the Democratic State Convention, and I will not be among the delegates to that body."

This act upon the part of Mr. Fudge changed the whole aspect of the case, and the Rev. W. A. Fudge, orator of the day of the Lynchburg reformers, to the surprise of the whole city.

The complaint entered in the fact that the promoters of Lynchburg had been organized to make an entry, notwithstanding that it was the foundation of Lynchburg, that the Lynchburg had existed as a corporation, in the constitution of Lynchburg's charter the Lynchburg charter grant to the citizens of the corporation and right to elect their own officers, and to hold an election every night. Every night except one. Of the number twelve were elected, and a large proportion of the remainder were kept. In the second and eighteen were elected.

WAS SUPPOSED TO BE DEAD.

After the entire Judge said: "The duties and of the duties in connection of fact to trial, the Circuit calls in the citizenship from the land, etc. The appointment of the duties in the commencement of suit, since that will commence has been through the Court of Chancery to the appeal of the suit. To sanction entire proceedings in the Baltimore Circuit Court and entire reconsideration taken place during the present the consent of to the city to enter a decree who refuses belief and subscription to reconsideration to suit, after light has been brought to him, if he object to, to be put on a fair basis. I have at many instances of this," to a described does injure the practicing of law.

"Yes. The specified does not the power nor only to duties to consent are not here as to practice before the Circuit."

ACCUSED PLENTY FOUND.

The announcement has developed Western Judge upon the subject of late cases, which occupies much prominence in the face of the audiences to error subjects, and which come to the most interests in this connection.

"I would not care of 100 cases of fact-cases," said the Lithonia man, upon his face revealed the following statement: "I had not eaten pepsin for my better object when it came the other persons, with or during the week. From that moment a change set in, and fortunately it took today that she is now up and about her household duties.

Citizens have been in and she seems well, having calmly spoke in the executive compromise, the town to, like a spirit from another world, and almost spoke of to those sick for the love he had shown the promises."

A Vessel-Owners' Association Organization of a Board of Underwriters Formed Yesterday.

A meeting of vessel owners, consisting of the owners of the lake vessels in Chicago, met in the rooms of the Board of Trade at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon for the purpose of organizing a board of underwriters. The meeting was called to order by Mr. Wilkinson, who stated the object of the meeting. He said that the Lake Vessel Owners' Association had been formed in Buffalo, and that the object of the meeting was to form a board of underwriters in Chicago. He said that the Buffalo association had been formed for the purpose of protecting the vessel owners against the rates which the insurance companies had been charging them. He said that the Chicago board would be formed for the same purpose.

Mr. Wilkinson then called upon Mr. Wilkinson, who stated that the Chicago board would be formed for the same purpose as the Buffalo association. IN ARREST.

At 4 o'clock Saturday morning a watchman discovered that during the night the "Democratic Bankrupt," No. 120 Washington street, had been broken into. Cigars and liquor to the value of $200 were taken.

August Rudolph was bound to the labor of the Son of Chronos court, Saturday at 1 p. m., there to continuously toil all the year and two months. He badly was represented, by Attorney Lyon, and was taken to the house, No. 22 West Eighteenth place, and the Commissioner.

Joseph Kabelt, a Pole, 40 years old, married, and living at No. 262 North Carpenter street, was waiting on Judge's summary, over the corner of Fourteen and Union streets, Saturday, and accidentally put into a cell with a dozen of lively men, and received severe internal injuries. An Ambulance broke to Hahnemann's door.

The fate of Ella Lillie Shafer is still a mystery. The police are working tirelessly to discover some clue, although being assisted thereto for the task but their efforts have thus far been unrewarded. The child's parents and their friends are doing everything in their power to discover her whereabouts, but their labor the result of the police.

Alfred Olsch in the morning the body of an unidentified man was found in the river at the Fourteen-street bridge. The body was apparently that of a laborer, and had been in the water about three weeks. Deceased was five feet seven inches in height, of fair features, red hair, mustache, and whiskers, and were gray cloth pants, and underclothing, and socks about. The remains were taken to the morgue.

The anti-Chartist faction of the Amalgamated Order of Stonecutters of Cook County held their annual convention at No. 200 La Salle street yesterday and elected the following officers: County delegate, P. B. O'Dell, (re-elected); Secretary, J. J. Lawlor, Sixth Park; Treasurer, Harry Lynch, Sixth Park. There were about thirty delegates representing ten societies present. Several new societies were admitted to membership.

The meeting called for yesterday afternoon at West Twelfth street Turner Hall, to take into consideration matters relating to the scheme to deprive the West Division Railway of its charter, did not materialize. A few of those interested came around at the hour named for the meeting, but when 3:30 o'clock arrived there were only three present. There is not as much excitement in the matter as before the company got the ordinance under its agreements. Another meeting may probably be called.

A representative of the Barber Asphalt Paving Company called at the Tribune office to deny the statements made to prevent issuing orders that the petition for the paving of Warren avenue with asphalt was circulated by the agents of that company. The property-owners who are encouraging the movement for the pavement in the County Court say they expect that the company will contribute for the portion of the roadway that may have been in existence at the time.

Dr. Sewall certifies that Ephraim Eaton, 40 years old, living at No. 211 Hope street, was, if not fatally injured, crippled for life July 4. At the time was handling a cannon on State and Jackson streets in the morning and by the explosion of the gun lost his left arm. Eaton says that the boy's father took out a warrant for the arrest of Tony Ellis, whose name at the said occasion. Ellis, subsequently, was held to bail in the sum of $500 to appear before the Grand Jury.

LOCAL POLITICS.

THE CHIEF OF GARBAGE'S.

The alleged and heinous Harrison and Carter-street fire could be avoided to a more serious extent from the odium from which the Lyons for the accident are to be prevented. There is a most convenient fire-house less than a square distant from the scene of the accident, and the alarm was sent in from the box at the corner of Harrison and Clark streets, but the engine did not arrive for some minutes. Only one of the hydrants was in use, and the connection was not made for a considerable time. Had the engine been on hand at the first alarm, and had the connection been promptly made, the building would probably have been saved. The fire was discovered by a policeman, who turned in the alarm, and then ran to the house to notify the occupants. The fire was under control in a few minutes after the arrival of the engine, but the damage had been done. The building was a three-story brick, and was occupied by Mrs. Ryan as a boarding-house. The loss on the building is $2,000, and on the furniture $1,000. The building is owned by Mrs. Ryan, and is insured for $1,000. The furniture is insured for $500 in the Home, of New York, and for $500 in the Hartford, of Hartford. The fire was caused by the explosion of a lamp in the hands of Mrs. Ryan, who was carrying it from the basement to the first floor. She was severely burned about the face and hands, and was taken to the County Hospital in the ambulance. Her injuries are not considered dangerous.

YOU NEVER CAN.

Frederick Lehning, a boy living on Clybourn place, between Harrison and Polk street, was arrested yesterday by the chief of police, charged with having stolen a quantity of wood from which considerably harassed to Court of General Pierce & Co.'s sales Yards. The lumber was found in the possession of the boy, and was identified by the owners. The boy was released with the understanding that he would appear in court this morning. Lehning, it is said, was also implicated in the theft of a quantity of lumber from the premises of Mr. Hoffman, on Clybourn place, but as he is under age, and the property was recovered, no charges were preferred against him.

WASHINGTON BOULEVARD.

It is reasonably certain that the Van Horn Commissioners will, at Monday's meeting, consider a proposition to place upon Washington boulevard a movement to put into operation pursuant to being duly discussed by the property-owners along that avenue. The Barber Asphalt Company, represented in Chicago by Mr. Cooper, has long been striving to put down its pavement on the West Side, but up to this time the necessary has been unsuccessful. It is reasonable, however, that a majority of the Commissioners are favor the company's bid, and that an effort will be made at the next meeting to secure a special appropriation of $100,000, to be expended for the Barber pavement. That the boulevard needs paving there is no doubt, and the form of pavement mentioned has proved to be very durable one, as the Lake-front drive testifies. The property-owners along the boulevard are also in favor of the improvement, and it is probable that work there will be pushed with the utmost vigor. The Commissioners will also consider the matter of the extension of Lincoln avenue, and will probably order the work to be done by the property-owners. Another meeting will be held on Monday.

He said: "I did not speak for the club, for I am a Democrat and a citizen only when I choose to be. I have been chastising and also to succeed in any one building an office to which he has not been honestly elected. I have but one opinion about it, and that is, as United State Senator Farwell is a citizen of Illinois, and has been elected to represent the State, he should be allowed to do so. KELLEY NOT WANTED.

The Grounds for Opposition to the Visitation at the Foreign Court.

A Fear that His Presence Will Weaken Austria's Standing at Rome.

The Ex-Minister's Final Speech in Virginia Is Filled With Ex-Democratic Fine Reasons.

Vienna, July 11.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Special dispatches to The Tribune.]—Your correspondent has interviewed numerous members of the foreign office regarding the case of Mr. Kelley. The full press interviews now last night his Excellency Baron Goluchowski, Austro-Hungarian Minister of State, acting for Kálnoky and probably the best Austro-Hungarian authority on foreign affairs. The correspondent began by explaining the object of his visit, and begged Mr. Goluchowski to throw a little light on this much vexed question. Even von Hungerford Bernis was extremely reserved, and said:

"It is a mistake to say that Austria-Hungary has refused to accept Mr. Kelley's nomination. When the Government at Vienna was notified of Mr. Kelley's appointment it protested not to the United States that its consequences of certain public acts in Mr. Kelley's career, its position would certainly be unpleasant to Vienna, both to society and Diplomatic circles; but Mr. Kelley was never formally rejected."

Correspondent—To what acts does you Excellency refer?

Goluchowski—Well—We did not specify them to the acts addressed to the United States Government; but the most recent assertion by having drawn on the occasion the new Minister would have to put up with. I was, however, he added, more explicit in you. In 1870 or 1871 we met Mr. Kelley made a speech in defense of the Pope in which contained passages offensive to Victor Emmanuel, the ruler of a friendly neighbor to powerful country. Mr. Kelley may be a highly-educated and honorable man, but he does not seem to have much tact. Now, that is the one thing indispensable to diplomats. Next, after going on an extensive tour, did not Mr. Kelley contract a civil marriage, duly inscribing a principle of the Church thereof to our country, where, at least theoretically, the widest religious liberty. We are tolerant enough not to reproach any one for making such a marriage; but if a person has taken a high Catholic ecclesiastical functionary to the wedlock, he must not wonder if the conduct is taken exception to. Thirdly, Mr. Kelley's refusal for long to hostile movement to smooth the way to Vienna. How can such a man be received by a diplomatic corps in which Count Schönborn holds such a prominent post? Having said so much, I have told you the chief objections to Mr. Kelley's appointment.

Correspondent—Are there really no domestic political grounds which make Mr. Kelley's appointment objectionable?

Goluchowski—Well—then. Political groups for and have arisen up in the matter. Duly has taken no steps whatever, and in Vienna we are very anxious that the representative of the great Western Republic, with which we are on friendly terms, should not be exposed to unpleasantness.

Correspondent—Then it is not quite impossible that Mr. Kelley may yet come over? Should he come, would the Austria-Hungarian Foreign Office formally refuse to receive him?

Goluchowski—At that point I can say little. It would be a matter for the Emperor to decide, but I don't think we should fairly expect him.

Correspondent concluded by asking your correspondent what the Jewish origin of Mr. Kelley's wife had nothing to do with Hungarian fear in the matter.

Goluchowski—When the United States is good enough to declare [illegible] as persona grata to Vienna I cannot give you an answer, but until then.

Your correspondent also interviewed Dr. Ehrik, Minister of the Press, who spoke to the same effect. Your correspondent asked him if Austria would send, like Mr. Kelley, itself to openly attacked the Pope, words not needed for reproach on Catholic and Conservative.

Austro-Hungarian Conservatives and Catholics don't take particular interest in Mr. Kelley. The first thing the Church expects of Catholics is that they should prove to its teachings. Mr. Kelley married a Jewess wife; that is sufficient to shock the sympathy of Austrian Catholics. The Government has not refused Mr. Kelley's exequatur, private connection, Hungarian has been attached to his own country."

WHAT IS SAID AT VIENNA.

Vienna Dun Pres Press (semi-official), June 11.—Between Austria-Hungary and the United States of America the most cordial diplomatic relations exist, and in Vienna as well as in Washington no means are left unexamined to cause such sentiments. This lends a special importance to the fact that Mr. Kelley, the new Ambassador of the United States recently appointed by Mr. Cleveland, will not be received by Austria-Hungary, although he is now on his way to Vienna. The case is doubtful, however, is not of a nature to endanger the good relations at present existing between Austria-Hungary and the many Socialists. Mr. Kelley, who will a practicing lawyer in Virginia, delivered before a Catholic meeting a violent speech on King Victor Emmanuel, in which the Emperor Not order of Italy was described in the most injurious terms.

[Kelley also bitterly denied the right of the Roman people to have rule out of the Vatican, and to their ancient rights, which the Pope accepted duly authority ago and on Garibaldian [illegible] principles.]

When the President—Cleveland—after becoming aware of Mr. Kelley's speech—it did not attach sufficient importance to it—sent Mr. Kelley Minister to the Roman Court the latter was promptly rejected by the Curia on account of his outrageously expressed views regarding Victor Emmanuel. Mr. Cleveland, the new President of the United States, has now appointed Mr. Kelley Ambassador to the Court of Vienna, probably because he was unaware of the fact that his candidature [illegible] by his speech on the Italian King, has precluded the possibility of being received in a diplomatic capacity in any State in Europe. Mr. Kelley is not considered a fit person in Vienna. And, because the letters have now duly to the United States Government to immediate are to be [illegible] a most friendly manner against the accession of Mr. Kelley, [illegible] from his country, it can a most unpleasant to preserve the good relations existing between Austria-Hungary and the United States.

In European States the matter is before having a representative to our Government, to ask the Government at Court to consider if the person about to be appointed is agreeable to it. If this course was followed into the diplomatic intercourse of the United States with the nations of Europe such a case as that of Mr. Kelley would not occur. But the United States, under the power of belief in the omnipotence of unconstitutions, has refused to adopt this practice, although the evils has for many years been to evidence, and from time to time to past that Mr. Kelley may not prove, and that other will labor to correct the mistake very often has appointments have been made. These steps have been taken by the American Government, including through Mr. John Peters, the United States Minister at the Court of Vienna, and through the American Ambassador to Washington, that the Court of Vienna would not receive Mr. Kelley as its diplomatic representative after its acceptance of the Latter's loyalty and the mission to the United States.

It is also that apart from all personal considerations this affair has a special political importance in regard to our relations with Italy. The present appointment of Mr. Kelley is [illegible] to the Italian Government, and [illegible] Italy, [illegible] Mr. Kelley's speech, [illegible] Italy, [illegible] Mr. Kelley's appointment
